Fears market could suffer with park and ride closure

There are also fears that the closure will have an effect on the viability of the town's Wednesday market.

And while the town's football club is offering all-day parking at the site for just £1.50 those using it will have to walk to the main road to catch a bus or walk into town, crossing roads which do not have zebra crossings.

Dorchester councillor Gerald Duke says he fears for the viability of the town's Wednesday market if visitors are unable to find anywhere to easily park.

Wednesday has been the busiest day of the week at the Park and Ride with up to 300 vehicles using it.

Said Councillor Duke:

"As a member of the Joint Markets Committee I will say that this closure cannot help the viability of the Wednesday market. As Councillor for the Dorchester West Ward where parking problems are very serious with school and hospital employees and other motorists looking for a cheap ride and abusing resident parking to the extreme, this can only make matters worse."

Councillor Duke says he also understands that West Dorset District Council told the football club that if they were to provide a bus service they would have to forgo their charitable status and be charged a commercial

"If true, this is totally unacceptable and a way must be found to enable the club to run a service without this penalty."

The park and ride service has been withdrawn

TELL us a little about Woodscott Joinery...

I started working in the Lyme/Axminster area as a one-man band working from a cow shed on a local farm and I now have a joinery workshop at Axminster Carpets employing a fantastic team.

We work in all aspects of wood work and have lots of projects under our belt, including bespoke furniture, horse shelters, kitchens, windows, etc.

In the past we have exhibited at the Axe Vale Festival, Devon County Show and Melplash Show and this year we will be at Melplash again and Buckham Fair with our horse shelters.

WHAT kind of wood work do you do?

We cover all aspects of carpentry and joinery from fitted furniture, architectural joinery, kitchens, windows, doors, staircases and conservatories. We also produce horse shelters which can be upgraded to a glamping shelter, office space or cabin and we are currently designing a dog shelter along the same lines.

Our biggest project to date was a beautiful and elegant kitchen produced for a customer in Dartmoor, it was a marbled pippy oak kitchen and was a challenging design which can be viewed on our website.

HOW is the business developing?

The business is moving forward in a new direction due to the CNC machine run on a CAD design package. This allows some aspects of the wood work we produce to have a more modernised approach whilst still using traditional methods. Council backs parking restriction proposals

DORCHESTER town councillors have backed calls for parking restrictions in and around Monmouth Road.

The areas roads are constantly obstructed by town centre workers and rail commuters parking in the residential streets.

If approved by the county council it would see new double yellow lines on the junctions of South Court Avenue and Rothesay Roads and around the junction of Ashley Road and Monmouth Road and Culliford Road South and Monmouth Road.

There would also be a residents' parking permit scheme in Monmouth Road, Ashley Road, Alfred Road, Cromwell Road, Culliford Road South and the section of Rothesay Road between Monmouth Road and South Court Avenue, with some limited shortterm parking.

A 20mph zone would also be put in place.

Town council planning committee chair
Councillor Susie Hosford said the way residents had campaigned for the changes had been a "text-book example of residents' participation".

Their spokesman,
John Hartley, said the public meeting had been well attended and everyone had been given their say, including those who were against plans for parking permits and new yellow lines.

"We believe this is a safety case and to improve traffic flow and not about whether we can park outside our own front door. It's not about moving the problem elsewhere in the town, but trying to get cars where they should be parked – in the car parks, generating revenue."

If the proposals are agreed by the county council there will have to be a full public consultation in the affected roads which will need to get at least 60 per cent support.

Parking permits will cost in the region of

Museum showcases development plans

By Trevor Bevins

LOCAL people are being invited to have their say about the future of the Dorset County Museum.

An exhibition of the development plans for the town centre building "Tomorrow's Museum for Dorset" opens next week, on Tuesday, August 9th and will continue until August 19th.

The outline plans will be on display in the foyer with a request for views on the plans for the £10million project.

Central to the project is the concept of getting more of the four million objects the museum owns on public display. A large proportion of them are kept in store at All Saints Church in High East Street, or in stores at the main building.

In May last year the museum secured £9.9million from the Heritage Lottery Fund, which will see it transformed into a world-class contemporary museum and exhibition space to make Dorset proud. The redevelopment of the existing site will include new galleries, a learning centre, library and new facilities including a café and shop.

The museum has also been investigating making better use of Rev John White's rectory to the rear of the main building in Colliton Street. Rev White was a significant figure in Dorchester's history and one of the founders of Massachusetts, USA.

Tomorrow's Museum for Dorset will showcase 200 million years of Dorset's history including unseen collections of national and international significance.

Museum Director Jon Murden said: "I'm really excited about this project, but the Museum is for and about the whole of Dorset, so we need people from across the county to come and see what we're doing and tell us what they think."

Patients to finally get bus shelter

COUNTY Hospital bus travellers may soon get a shelter. The patients panel have been asking

Ine patients panel have been asking for a shelter for the Bridport Road stop since First Bus diverted their buses out of the hospital in September last year.

A letter from the county council says the shelter, with seating, should be put in during mid-September, although a planned lay-by will not now go ahead.

"Since then passengers have been forced to stand and wait for the bus on Bridport Road without any form of shelter or seating. Many find this difficult and the patients' panel for Weymouth & Portland heard that some are having to lean against cars in the car park as they have such difficulty standing up," said chair of the network, Michel Hooper-Immins.

"It seems amazing that it will have taken the county council a year to get round to building a shelter, while patients have shivered through winter and now sweated through summerbeing forced to stand and wait for buses. There may of course be further delays.

"I believe First Bus should not have been allowed to divert services out of the hospital without a shelter and seating being provided. Both Dorset County Council and First Bus have been uncaring of the comfort of bus passengers from the hospital, many of whom will, by definition, be unwell."

Concerns park and ride closure will have knock-on effect because of council budget cuts and the hight cost of subsidising the service, put at over £100,000 a year.

Dorchester Town Football Club say they explored running a bus, but decided not to do so and say that, at this point, it will not be offering monthly or annual parking permits, but will review the situation if demand is sufficient.

Mike Harries, Dorset County Council's director for environment and the economy, said at the time the decision was taken to end the service: "The park and ride has been popular with regular users and has helped in part to reduce congestion in the town, especially along Weymouth Avenue.

"However, regrettably, too few people have chosen to use the service to make it viable and with the lease coming to an end it is no longer practical to continue it"

The council said there were 50 regular daily users included in the 110 who held season tickets.

The cost of providing the park and ride service was £137,300 in 2015/16 with the income for the same year at £35,000 – with Dorset County Council and West Dorset District Council sharing the subsidy of £102,000

The majority of users were employees from either authority who have now been told they can use their existing passes to park in the market car park, apart from Wednesday when they will be able to park in Trinity Street instead. This will continue until at least January 1st. 2017.

On Monday, the first day without a service, there was confusion about how to pay – while the football club was asking £1.50, the meter, still in use on the site, asked for £1. A club statement suggested that motorist should pay on entry, but by 11am there was nobody there to collect the money and no other indication as to how it should be paid.

Dorchester Football Club is currently in talks with First Bus to negotiate a discount for those wishing to use the public bus service from Weymouth Avenue.

Councillor Mary Penfold, who chairs the joint market panel, said: "The vast majority of people using the car park are commuters for Dorset County Council or West Dorset District Council

"Some members of the public park there but we do not see this affecting the viability of the market.

"There is space in the market available at Fairfield to park and there is a coach drop off point for the market in Weymouth Ayenue."

Said Dorset Police and Crime Commissioner, Martyn Underhill: "As part of the Your Dorset, Your Police, Your View project last year, 82 per cent of local people said they wanted to be able to report non-urgent crimes on the website and 60 per cent wanted to engage with their Neighbourhood Policing Team online.

"The introduction of the new Dorset Police website is a real step forward in modernising how the public can interact with the police. FIRST buses in Weymouth, Portland and Bridport returned to near normal this week after planned strike action was called off.

There had been planned strikes on Monday, today (Wednesday) Friday, Saturday and Sun-

In a statement the company said: "The company can confirm that the planned strikes have been withdrawn by Unite as a result of them failing to provide the correct statutory notification as required by the Trade Union and Labour Relations (consolidation) Act 1992.

"Unite are required to advise their members currently involved in strike action of the need to attend work normally on the above dates."

Union members working for First Dorset have been involved in industrial action for six weeks, claiming they should be paid the same as staff working for the company in the Yeovil area. An increase of 2.3 per cent over two years, was rejected by union members.

The industrial action is expected to continue

Inspector Andrew Dilworth, said: "Dorset Police takes these offences extremely seriously. When high value goods are stolen from works vehicles, there is a significant and disruptive impact on the local economy.

"Many hard-working local tradespeople have been prevented from conducting their day to day work, whilst others have been put out of business permanently as a direct result of these crimes.

"We will continue to crack down on those involved in organised crime, making every effort to recover stolen goods and reunite them with their rightful owners where possible."

Chief Inspector Adrian Leisk, Head of the Road Policing Alliance Operations Department, said: "Collaborative working is key to ensuring that organised crime cannot and will not settle in our counties. By pooling resources, such crime can be targeted more robustly and effectively.'

White hart returns

A WHITE hart statue which locals fought to keep on a Dorchester building site has been returned – but not yet unveiled.

The creature once stood above the former White Hart Hotel at the bottom on High East Street.

When the building was knocked down and work started on apartments for the riverside site a campaign started to ensure the statue returned.

There were further worries when the stag was damaged during attempt to get it down.

But now the statue has returned – although is likely to remain wrapped in a protective sheet until building work on the ten-home Eastgate development is completed later this year. Metis Homes say the site will have a mixture of three and four-bedroom townhouses as well as a two-bedroom coach house. The original White Hart, dated at 1895, featured in Thomas Hardy's short story, A Few Crusted Characters. Following a fire it was rebuilt in 1926, finally closing its doors in 2006.

Town council back plans to prevent post office move

TOWN councillors are to try and find a solution to controversial proposals to move the Victoria Park Post Office in Maud Road to Poundbury.

At a meeting on Monday evening they voted to tell the Post Office they feared the move could put the existing post office service on Poundbury at risk and deprive the Victoria Park area of a community service.

Councillors are also offering to host a meeting between the two postmasters, the Post Office and any businesses interested in taking on the counter service.

The problems have been caused because the Maud Road business does not meet Post Office current standards.

Councillor Trevor Jones, who used to run the Fordington Post Office and Stores, said the root of the problem was that many small post offices were no longer viable businesses.

"This is a very sensitive matter affecting the livelihoods of several people," he said.

Councillor Robin Potter said it was "not sensible" for the Post Office to suggest having one counter service so close to the existing one at the Buttermarket.

"All the possibilities should be explored in Maud Road, or elsewhere in the east of the town," he said.

Mayor Tim Harries also questioned the sense of moving the post office within the Village Stores at Poundbury.

"It's not particularly accessible, there are steps there, and the counter would go into the far corner of the shop," although he did agree that the longer opening times would be an improvement along with a low-level counter and hearing loop.

Councillor Stella Jones said the town council should tell the Post Office before the public consultation ends on August 9th that it would prefer to keep the post office in Victoria Park with suitable improvements.

Parking charges could see rise

COUNCIL parking charges in Dorchester could rise by ten per cent.

The increase would be the first in eight years with the extra income expected to pay for improvements.

Many of the district-council run car parks have been criticised for poor surfaces and a lack of lighting. The increase, if approved at a meeting next week, would push long-stay parking up from £4 to £4.50 for a day and with short-stay fees set to rise from 60 to 70p for an hour and from £1 to £1.10 for two hours.

Councillors are being told that an extra £100,000 is needed for maintenance funding with an extra £300,000 for capital works.

Annual season tickets are also likely to increase from £720 to £740.

TIC move abandoned

LONG-term plans to move Dorchester's Tourist Information Centre to the Shire Hall appear to have been abandoned

Instead district councillors are now looking on a move from the current Trinity Street base to the town library – or to set up a small, un-staffed, 'information point' elsewhere in the town centre.

District councillors are being told that the Shire Hall Development Trust has decided not to offer the tourist office a home in the new Tolpuddle Martyrs museum because of the cost.

Moving to Dorchester Library would save the service around £99,000 per year, although there would be a one off cost of around £50,000 for the relocation.

A public consultation will be held on the proposal to move to the library or to replace the service with an unstaffed Tourist Information Point elsewhere in the town centre.

Chance to try something new

DORCHESTER'S "Try This" event has enjoyed a record-breaking year – with moer than 500 places booked on the 26 free taster sessions on offer.

Some sessions were so popular that extra sessions were hastily arranged – for foraging, Tai Chi and yoga.

Volunteer organisers say the numbers were up by some 20 per cent on 2015. One third of the sessions were fully booked.

And there was positive feedback from those who did attend with one poster saying: "Thank you for your time and all your hard work in offering these "Try This" sessions. I think it is a brilliant idea and gives so many people fantastic opportunities."

Others said the sessons offered 'fabulous opportunities" and that it was a "brilliant idea".

The feedback is now being analysed in detail from both session leaders and attendees to learn, improve and adapt to what people say for next year. The events are organised by a small group of volunteers and comes about because of the commitment of session leaders. That group is now looking for new ideas and additional help.

"Given that we are a small team, we would welcome additional members to our committee," said organisers.

Turning back Citizens' award for Sue

A DORCHESTER woman has been awarded a certificate of merit by the British Citizen Awards organisation for her good work with a number of local good causes.

Sue Blake, from Castle Park, is best-known for her work with the Dorchester Strollers - but is also involved in a number of other organisations.

The BCA was launched in January 2015 to recognise "everyday" people who have made a positive impact on society and who most likely would otherwise go unrecognised. The BCA say the awards are designed to "highlight selfless individuals who do so much to contribute to the lives of others"

Mrs Blake said: "I enjoy all the work I am involved in. I get great satisfaction from helping local organisations which do so much to improve the lives of people. That makes it all worthwhile."

Mrs Blake, who has lived in Dorchester since 1960, has since then devoted an enormous amount of time across a wide range of local activities. She was awarded the British Empire Medal in 2013 for her voluntary work.

Two of her key voluntary tasks are as secretary and walks leader of the Dorchester Strollers, which organises walks for local people twice a week all year - thus encouraging them to do more exercise and thus stay healthier.

She is a also a member of the Heart of Wessex Community working party, which is a forum for all volunteers who carry out work at local railway stations on the Bristol-Weymouth line. Mrs Blake is a member of the Friends of Dorchester West Railway Station who carry out physical work at the station most Friday mornings.

Other bodies in which Mrs Blake has been involved include: The national advisory committee for the Walking for Health Organisation; the

Mrs Blake has been a member of the organising committee of Try This Dorchester since its inception in 2013 and carries out volunteer work for the National Trust at Max Gate, Dorchester, the home of the late

Nature and poetry walk for dementia sufferers

THE next nature walk for those affected by dementia is being held at the Thorncombe Wood Local Nature Reserve near Dorchester on Tuesday, August 9th.

The walks are an opportunity for people living with dementia and their carers to get outdoors in a safe and supportive way with rangers trained in dementia awareness.

They will also include prose and poems from Thomas Hardy's work.

Starting Tuesday, August 9th at 2pm, the hour long session will finish with coffee at the Hardy's Birthplace Visitors Centre. There will also be sessions on August 23rd and the 6th and 20th September.

The cost is £1.50 including refreshments, and spaces are limited, so please book by emailing hardysbirthplace@dorsetcc.gov.uk or calling Dorchester (01305) 251228.

Said Claire Platten, one of the rangers at Dorset County Council: "The dementia friendly walks hope to encourage more people living with dementia into the natural environment with the aim of encouraging people with dementia to enjoy and feel secure in the woodland setting while also improving their general health and wellbeing."

The original training and funding application was organised by Dorset AONB and partners working on 'Stepping into Nature' which is aimed at providing choice and opportunities for people living with dementia and their carers to participate in a range of nature-based activities.

a stand against hate crimes

DORCHESTER Town councillors have taken a stand again racism and other hate crimes.

The authority has passed a resolution condemning racism, xenophobia and hate crimes and emphasised its commitment to working with local groups to counter any increase in unacceptable activity in the town.

In introducing the motion Councillor Stella Jones said: "It's important that in the current climate we reassure all parts of our community that they are valued and we make a clear statement that they should not have to tolerate racist or hate abuse.

"Dorchester is a welcoming and friendly town and, on those very rare occasions when abuse does happen here, it is essential that it is reported to Dorset Po-

STORMY Stan made an appearance at Weymouth's Lifeboat open

HUNDREDS of visitors met the crews of Weymouth's RNLI lifeboats at the weekend.

The harbour station was open to the public with both the "Severn" Class Allweather and "Atlantic 75" class Inshore Lifeboats being open to the public.

RNLI mascot Stormy Stan made an appearance to the delight of the children while the RNLI national raffle tickets were on sale to those wishing to support the RNLI financially.

The open event brought Lifeboat Week to an end - the main fundraising week of the year for the charity.

It costs around £460,000 a day to run the RNLI, all of which is donated by the public and lifeboat weeks held around the country are a very important part in reaching that total.

Film fans flood harbour to catch a glimpse of Dunkirk stars

WEYMOUTH'S flirt with the Hollywood film-makers is over.

It brought disruption to town centre traffic, transformed the quayside back to the 1940s and added tens of thousands of pounds to the local economy.

The crowds were kept away by barricades, security staff and Dorset Police officers – but social media was buzzing with news of possible sightings of some of the film's stars.

For the borough, filming Dunkirk, due for release in July 2017, is almost bound to be good news with the knock-on effect of bringing tourists to the town to see where some of the scenes were shot.

Perhaps not surprisingly the most sought-after star seemed to be One Direction singer, Harry Styles, yet to be proved in an acting role.

While many fans caught a glimpse of the popstar turned actor, the film's other leading stars, Tom Hardy and Cillian Murphy, were hardly seen. However, it was rumoured that Mr Hardy had been seen drinking in The Boot.

New contract to save partnership £700,000

THE Dorset Waste Partnership (DWP) has awarded a new contract to Weymouth and Sherborne Recycling Limited (W&S) for continuing to operate its household recycling centres (HRCs).

The deal, due to begin this month and will run until 2024, is set to deliver almost £700,000 in savings for Dorset councils in its first year of operation.

There are also other options in the contract that could increase that saving in future years. It will also improve efficiency and provide greater value for money for all residents.

The DWP has 11 household recycling centres across the county, receiving over 65,000 tonnes of household waste last year.

W&S Recycling will be responsible for the day-to-day operation of the HRCs.

HRC summer opening times will remain as they are now, although the winter operating period will begin a month earlier on Saturday, October 1st, after which sites will be open daily from 10am to 4pm.

Councillor Anthony Alford, chairman of the DWP Joint Committee, said: "This new contract marks the beginning of an exciting new chapter in the longstanding partnership between W&S Recycling and the DWP. Not only will it deliver big savings over the next eight years, it demonstrates the value that we place on the hard work of the W&S staff, who we will continue to support and provide training for. They are the ones helping residents, managing waste in the most cost-effective way and making sure our HRCs are safe and well-maintained.

"The DWP is committed to delivering cost-effective services to Dorset residents, as well as ensuring as much of our waste is re-used and recycled as possible. This new deal presents some changes to the way we currently do things, as well as lots of opportunities to improve what is already a great frontline service."

Geoff Thompson, owner of W&S Recycling, added: "I'm delighted that the solid working relationship we enjoy with the Dorset Waste Partnership is set to continue. We have a shared goal of making savings wherever we can, while ensuring we carry on providing a great service to the people of Dorset.

"We are working on some ambitious plans behind the scenes, which we're very excited about. My aim is for other counties to look at our partnership as a shining example of how things should be done. I'm sure the DWP and W&S Recycling will have a bright future working together."

Beach volleyball returns to Weymouth

ONE of Weymouth Beach's biggest annual sporting events attracted thousands to the beach.

The Weymouth Beach Volleyball Classic, supported by Royal Air Force Careers, claimed over 10,000 spectators and supporters for the three-day Weymouth Beach Classic, which will ended on Sunday.

Visitors were able to enjoy free grandstand seating, two show courts just off the Esplanade and nine outside courts.

The event also featured live music and a marquee village during the weekend.

Around 100 two-aside men's and women's beach volleyball teams were attracted to the event from across the country, with a number of top class overseas players adding to the line up.

Win tickets (worth £36) to The London Homebuilding & Renovating Show, 23rd - 25th September 2016

ACCORDING to latest research from mortgage lender Halifax, Greater London's property prices have risen by 432 per cent per square metre over the past two decades. With the capital city's housing market skyrocketing, The London Homebuilding & Renovating Show, sponsored by Anglian Home Improvements, will return to ExCeL, London from 23-25 September, where it is set to attract a host of new visitors looking for advice and resources to add value by remodelling their homes or building them from scratch to reap the benefits of the buoyant property sector.

This year, The Homebuilding & Renovating Show is also presenting a new merchant partnership with Jewson, Britain's leading chain of sustainable timber and building resources, to maximise its construction and product exhibitor portfolio for attendees.

Also new to the show is interior designer and experienced architect Mariana Pedroso, who will be attending the exhibition on all three days of the event. She will be available to offer help and advice on renovation, remodelling, extension and all aspects of interior design and decorating.

Keen self-builders and renovators will have the opportunity to talk to over 350 specialist companies from a variety of industries including architecture; kitchens; bathrooms; heating; design; ventilation; lighting; doors and windows. 37 free masterclasses and seminars on self-build and home improvement topics as well as 750 advice sessions with the country's leading architects and experts, will also be available at the event for those requiring bespoke advice. The annual show will be brimming with guidance and inspiration to ensure that people attending the exhibition will be able to put theory into practice to give life to a project, commence a build or complete a restoration.

On Saturday, visitors will have the opportunity to hold 15-minute consultations with celebrity experts who star in their favourite TV property programmes. Charlie Luxton, sustainable architectural designer currently presenting 'Building the Dream' on More 4, will talk about eco living, new architectural ideas and homes of the future. Julia Kendell, interior design expert for BBC's 'DIY SOS', ITV's '60 Minute Makeover' and 'Rebuild Our Home', will return to meet with visitors seeking inspiration on how they can revamp their houses through clever interior adaptations.

Up-to-date information on everything property-related will be showcased during live presentations hosted by qualified tradesmen in the Tricks of the Trade section. Diverse topics will cover how to undertake everyday DIY jobs around the house without breaking the bank.

For attendees in need of fresh ideas or solutions, the Ask the Experts area inside the Advice Centre will be the place for them to ask questions and explore the most efficient solutions to meet their challenges. 10 resident property experts will also be available for 15-minute consultations via interactive sessions. People will be encouraged to bring their plans along and discuss them with specialists including Michael Holmes (director of content for Homebuilding & Renovating magazine and Real Homes magazine); Jason Orme (editorial director of Centaur Media's Home Interest portfolio including Homebuilding & Renovating and Real Homes); David Snell (Homebuilding & Renovating magazine's self-build and plot finding expert); Sally Tagg (an expert on planning permission); Bob Branscome (a chartered surveyor and builder); Chris Reeves (Homebuilding & Renovating magazine's Legal Expert and a chartered builder and lawyer); Tim Pullen (an expert in sustainable building and energy efficiency in the home) and Ron Beattie, innovator of Beattie Passive (the UK's first certified Passivhaus Build System).

For practical recommendations, the Advice Centre will be introducing an Ask a Builder zone, where members of the Federation of Master Builders will be offering visitors tips on finding vetted and approved construction workers to commission for a project.

In addition, over 13 experienced architects from the Royal Institute of British Architects (RIBA) will be at the Ask the Architects area to help visitors achieve their aspirations and vision, add value to their project, guide them through the design and the bespoke construction process.

Visitors with questions or issues on obtaining planning permission will be able to meet with Sally Tagg and her team of experts at the Planning Clinic. Avenue Interiors AVENUE Interiors moved into Dorchester's Brewery square November last year and has fast become the go to place for stylish furniture and quirky gifts in Dorchester. Nestled between the Health Centre and Paninis, Avenue Interiors is run by Gary Lancaster and his partner Gaynor, and offers high quality furniture at Dorchester prices, with free local delivery.

At Avenue Interiors you will find traditional, contemporary and retro furniture to suit any decor and, being an independent business, Gary and his partner Gaynor can source almost any item not in stock. Gary says, "We look for quality materials and finish, and cannot resist the tactile and slightly quirky statement pieces, like our giant enamelled fruit. As well as furniture we also stock an extensive range of unusual decorative mirrors, clocks and ornaments, lighting and beautiful throws and cushions. We have new pieces coming in all of the time."

Gary developed an appreciation of craftsmanship and a love of wood as a young apprentice carpenter after attending Thomas Hardy school, he later became involved in shop fitting and the refurbishment of pubs and hostelries, where design was a major factor and it was that the birth of Avenue Interiors evolved naturally.

Avenue Interiors has recently created their new website www.avenueinteriors.co.uk which is constantly having new products added and still only shows just a small selection of the stock you will find in the Brewery square store. You really are encouraged to go and see the lovely stock for yourself.

Gary continues, "We have only been at Brewery Square for a few months but our customers and the other traders have made the whole experience enjoyable and have been really welcoming and complimentary."

Avenue Interiors is open 7 days a week, 9.30am to 5.30pm Mon- day to Saturday and 10am to 4pm on Sundays.

Malabar Trading

MALABAR Trading is the source of many wonderful items that will make your summer more enjoyable.

There are sarongs, Turkish towels and baskets for the beach, colourful block-printed tablecloths and napkins for al fresco dining and soft cotton filled quilts to sleep under on humid nights. Cotton nightwear is also a necessity at this time of year and there are many styles and prints to choose from.

The shop also has many special items like the silk ikat cushions and silk suzanis from Uzbekistan.

Ikat is a particularly complicated method of weaving, and these cushion covers are made from fabric woven on small handlooms and made up into cushions in Istanbul. The Uzbek suzanis are made of handwoven silk and are hand embroidered with silk. They make stunning wall hangings. There are also Mongolian suzanis which were made as part of a dowry. They look particularly good as a hanging behind a bed.

There are many other products that are notable, they include high quality Japanese ceramics that work well with all types of cuisine, Moroccan Tizga bowls and hand blown French wine glasses. Handmade paper from Nepal, sketchbooks and notebooks from bookbinders in Germany. There is also a selection of Turkish and Iranian kilims.

There will be a small sale starting on August 2nd 2016.

Carer Stu Hossack added his own fun to the fundraising by putting a sign around himself offering hugs for £1 (pictured below).

He said: "I tried it last year and it proved to be a bit of fun. Even if people don't have a hug it gives them a bit of a laugh."

Among the entertainment were routines from Mercury Dance, while the Signature House catering team laid on a barbecue.

Muddy cows raise £992

■ MUDDY Cows from the Ford Farmers team at Litton Cheney somersaulted, slid, crawled, twisted and turned through the Pretty Muddy Obstacle Course to raise £992 for Cancer Research UK.

Team Leader, Sian Whitlock, Sales Manager at Ford Farm and responsible for persuading a team of five other Ford Farm employees to get stuck in the mud with her, in support of the project, said: "We had a great time, truly getting stuck in gallons of it, right up to our necks! But we're absolutely over the moon to have raised such a considerable sum for such a worthy cause."

"Thanks so much to everyone who helped us achieve and surpass our target!"

New fund to teach children about rural life

LOCAL youngsters are being encouraged to learn more about rural life thanks to new Dorchester Agricultural Society 1840 Education Fund.

Children from Puddletown First School have been learning about agriculture, horticulture and rural life thanks to a new education fund that covers the whole of Dorset.

The year one pupils visited the dairy unit at Northbrook Farm, Puddletown, went pond dipping in the River Piddle and learnt about arable crops and livestock at Warren Hill Farm, Puddletown.

Year one teacher Ally Roff said the fund provided an amazing opportunity for the children to experience life on the farm.

"The children learn so much from days like this – science, animals, living organisms, habitats, the local environment and geography – as well as having fun

"There is a real need for youngsters to be educated about agriculture even in a rural county such as Dorset. I was teaching in Poole two-years-ago and the class of 30 really believed that milk came from Asda and had no idea of the important role farming plays in the county."

Wakely Cox, Chairman of the Dorchester Agricultural Society, said the vision of the fund was to allow children to understand about rural life and farming through a hands-on approach.

"You cannot beat the experience of getting children out on a farm and see them feeding baby calves and lambs and handling wheat and barley.

"We hope the fund will help sow the seeds to the next generation about the importance of farming,' he added.

The fund has been set up to commemorate the formation of the Dorchester Agricultural Society in 1840. It follows discussions with schools which showed that there is often not enough funding available to pay for the transport to get children out of the classroom and on to farms, nurseries food producers and processors.

Initially, the fund will finance transport to and from a number of farms, which will be dedicated to providing farm tours.

Donations to the 1840 Education Fund can be sent to the Dorchester Agricultural Society at the Dorset County Show offices at Agriculture House Acland Road, Dorchester, Dorset DT1 1EF.

PROTECT YOURSELF FROM SCAMS

By Vicky Shaw, Press Association

JULY marks Scams Awareness Month - so how can you protect yourself?

Citizens Advice has teamed up with the Chartered Trading Standards Institute to launch the awareness-raising drive to help people avoid falling prey to scams.

The campaign urges people to take three steps to avoid themselves and others being ripped off - get advice, report it and tell others about it.

Citizens Advice analysed 5,000 scams reported to the charity between January and March 2016. It said the average victim of an investment scam loses £20,000.

These frauds may involve fake diamonds, bogus stocks and shares and fine wines that don't really exist.

In one case seen by Citizens Advice, a man paid £150,000 for diamonds that turned out to be worth a fraction of the cost.

Victims are being hooked in to such scams by cold calls, online adverts and fake websites.

The promise of returns that appear very attractive in the low interest rate environment may also make such offers sound particularly tempting.

But as Leon Livermore, chief executive of the Chartered Trading Standards Institute, says, while the criminals' methods are becoming increasingly more sophisticated, "the advice remains the same, if it looks too good to be true, it probably is".

People's hard-saved pension pots may be a particular target - so be very wary of offers of "free" advice on how to increase your investments.

The pension freedoms launched in 2015 give the over-55s much greater choice over how they use their pension pots. But fraudsters will also see these savings pots as a target.

Consumer group Which? has also sounded warnings about pension liberation schemes.

These target people under the age of 55 and encourage them to withdraw or transfer their pension savings - often with "exhorbitant" fees involved - the consumer group says.

However, pensions are generally designed to only allow savers access to their money after they turn 55.

Accessing pensions savings before 55, unless in exceptional circumstances such as ill-health, could see consumers losing up to 70% of their pot as a tax penalty, Which? warns.

Alex Neill, director of policy and campaigns at Which? says: "Pension scams are a worrying problem and are costing savers millions of pounds.

Many fraudsters use high-pressure tactics and Which? says you should never rush into agreeing a pension transfer.

It suggests that if you're unsure, consider speaking to a financial adviser who is not associated with the pension deal.

The free Government-backed Pension Wise service is also available to help people aged 50 and over decide how to use their pension pot.

As well as your pension pot, fraudsters also see the information you place on social media as a

Criminals glean personal information from social media and hack into private systems to get people's personal details and go on to apply for a loan or buy a product in their victim's name.

To help combat online fraudsters, make sure you have the most up-to-date security software installed, including anti-virus. Some banks offer free security software.

Suspect any unsolicited emails that claim to be from a trusted organisation like your bank or the tax office, and be careful not to click on any links.

And remember that while you may be excited about your summer getaway, posting details of it online may also advertise the fact your home is empty to burglars.

DON'T FORGET TO PACK YOUR HEALTH INSURANCE CARD

With the peak summer holiday season in Europe here, the Association of British Insurers (ABI) is reminding travellers not to holiday without travel insurance and their European Health Insurance Card (FHIC).

It says that regardless of the vote to leave the EU, the EHIC and travel insurance remain a "must".

The free EHIC gives access to state-provided healthcare on the same basis as a national in the country you are visiting.

But the card is not an alternative to travel insurance, so it is important to have both to make sure vou are fully covered.

It's also worth bearing in mind that many travel insurers will waive their excess (the first part of the claim that you pay yourself) if you use your

The ABI says last year insurers came to the aid of nearly 500,000 travellers who needed help overseas, paying out the equivalent of £1 million every day.

FIRST-TIME BUYERS TAKE OUT MORE MORTGAGES THAN HOME MOVERS

First-time buyers have started taking out more mortgages than home movers for the first time in 20 years, according to figures from banks and building societies.

People taking their first step on the property ladder took out 27,500 home loans in May across the UK, marking a 9% increase compared with April, the Council of Mortgage Lenders (CML)

Meanwhile, existing homeowners who were moving home took out 26,300 mortgages in May, marking a lower number than the first-time buyer figure, but still up by 18% month-onmonth.

PROPERTY WEBSITE SEES BOOST IN HOMES MARKETED FOR RENT

Rental sector tenants saw a boost in the supply of properties for them to choose from in the second quarter of this year, according to a property website.

There were 8% more newly-marketed rental properties in the second quarter of this year across England and Wales compared with the same period in 2015, Rightmove reported.

In London, the supply of properties being newly-marketed was up by 22% on the same period last year, it said.

The RPMs and The Tuts head to Bridport

BRIDPORT ARTS CENTRE is very pleased to bring together two of the UK's most exciting live bands, The Tuts and The RPMs, to play in Bridport in September.

Pop punk trio, The Tuts seriously pack a punch with Pauline Black praising their 'infectious guitar led pop wrapped around fiery drums, sharp tongues and splendid harmonies'. The Tuts have been busy in the studio and are releasing their new album "Update Your Brain" is out this month.

The RPMs, led by former Colfox student Jack

Valero, play good time songs with extensively with the likes of The Selecter and The Beat and are heading to Bridport after a busy summer of festivals which includes Beautiful Days, 2000 Trees, Undercover Festival and Rebellion.

On their own they are brilliant - together it'll be a night not to miss.

Don't miss The Last Post

STEP on board the pillar-box red van-atorium known as Mobile Sorting Office 451 and be transported to a world where snail mail reigns supreme.

Surrounded by postage paraphernalia from a much-travelled life you'll meet Verity, the irresponsible heiress of an international pen-pal agency, and Red, a redundant Post-Master. Witness the unwrapping of their curious music, provided by Tomaz (who arrived one day in a jiffy bag).

Following the play you're invited to stay for a tot of sherry and a rummage in the stationary supplies before hopping into a vintage typewriter or picking up a quill to write that letter you've been meaning to send. If you need some inspiration you can pick up a postcard from the love story, accompanied by live 'Friends for Pens' pin-board and write to a real life recipient who is waiting for your letter.

Kilter Theatre's tour of 'The Last Post' is presented by house, and will be performed at Dorchester Borough Gardens and 2pm and 6pm on Thursday, August 4th.

Tickets are £12, £10 members & concessions, £5 Livefor5, available online at www.dorchesterarts.org.uk or by calling 01305 266926.

In the matter of physics, comedy is a key method

SOUTHWEST theatre company The Last Baquette are bringing science to life with their new comedy: What's the Matter? - coming to the Marine Theatre in Lyme Regis this summer. A physical comedy about physics, What's the Matter? is performed by two actors playing numerous roles in an original piece that will appeal to all ages, from slapstick comedy fans to scientists. Be prepared for a very silly show about a very intelligent subject.

This sci-fi adventure is written by award-winning playwright Tiffany Woodsmith (Sunday Times playwriting award). An unexplained cat theft from a lab leads scientist Smithy on a journey through his own experiment into the subatomic world. Can he find the cat and win over his colleague Sarah in the process?

As seen at the British Science Festival, this comedy about strange and wonderful world of quantum physics features silly songs, dancing particles, scientific slapstick, and a search for Schrodinger's cat.

The play was developed with Dr Helen Heath from the University of Bristol, with The Last Baguette in residence at The Pound arts centre in North Wiltshire.

The Last Baguette was formed in Paris in 2009 by graduates of the Philippe Gaulier and Jacques Lecog theatre schools. They make fast-paced, irreverent comedy theatre, and after performing in France, Switzerland and Canada, are now company in residence at The Pound arts centre in Corsham, Wiltshire.

The Last Baguette Theatre Company present 'What's the Matter?' A physical comedy about physics at the Marine Theatre on Tuesday, August 16th at 7.30pm, and Wednesday, August 17th at

Running time is 1 hour 10 minutes, and age guidance is 8+

Galactic goings-on at Camp Bestival were out of this world!

GLITTERING pop, a birthday rave, and 80s pop classics were the order of the weekend at Camp Bestival, writes

X-Factor runners-up Reggie N Bollie got the party started at the main stage on Friday, with a slew of mod ern pop hits - a surefire winner with Camp B's youthful Sets from Turkin Brakes, DJ Yoda and Squeeze followed, warming up an already sun-drenched crowd ahead of pop starlet Jesse Glynne's headline set. Glynne's unique soulful vocals on a string of number one's was an excellent finish to Friday. Coincidentally, the highlight of the set, the massive hit 'Rather Be', was originally a collaboration with last year's Friday headliners Clean Bandit.

SATURDAY, as ever, was the busiest day on site, and the day's entertainment was great, though had one or two oddities; Dawn Penn, whose reggae groove floorfiller 'No No No' was surely the key reason she was booked, never actually got to play said song, due to the period of church silence on the main stage on the Saturday evening (an odd, but widely accepted foible of CB), much to the chagrin of several thousand at the Following the silence – a good excuse to sample a cocktail or two - an unexpected top act of the weekend played. Electro-indie-psych rockers Django Django, a last minute replacement for Arrested Development (cancelled due to illness) were my highlight, with 'Waveforms', 'Default' and more sounding event more impressive live than recorded. Katy B followed up with a bass heavy set, lining up perfectly for the headline act of the weekend, Fatboy Slim (aka Norman Cook).

Birthday-boy Cook had eaten, slept and was at the rave/repeat stage of his day as he took to the stage in a full astronaut suit, embracing Camp B's space theme. His set was filled with a relatively small amount of live mixing, but that didn't tarnish a slick presentation of pre-mixed mash-ups and excellent visuals on the backdrop of the stage.

With energy yet to be completely sapped, we headed to the silent disco for what is always a fun, if slightly embarrassing sing and dance!

With slightly fuzzy heads, we embraced a cross-section of entertainment on Sunday; Jasper Carrott brought an all-to-short comedy headline set to the Big Top; KT Tunstall rocked on the main stage; before a cheesy 80s pop set from Banarama (well, two-thirds of the original line-up). Anne-Marie, continued the evening's main-stage offerings with an angsty and energetic set, before the festival's two-part finale begun. New-wave pop legends Tears for Fears brought live musical proceedings to a close with a hit-strewn set, bookended with absolute classics 'Everybody Wants to Rule The World' and 'Shout'. An appreciative crowd sang back every word.

Part two of the final act was the awe-inspiring fireworks at the castle; a real spectacle, and almost worth the admission alone. Tributes to David Bowie and Prince whilst the pyrotechnics exploded high-above brough the curtain down, and a tear to the eye!

Walking in Circus Thank you for the music

SUNDAY night and the lights are low... the Marine Theatre is the place to go...

The world's longest-running ABBA concert show is coming to town to celebrate the 40th anniversary of the Swedish super group's biggest selling hit - Dancing Queen.

The song was a million-selling, number-one hit in 13 countries and it forms the climax to the international hit stage show 'Thank You for the Music'. The production is now in its 23rd Show producer Michael Taylor boasts that the spectacle has been delighting live music fans for longer than Bjorn, Benny, Agnetha and Frida did during the 70s and 80s. "Combining Lycra-tight harmonies with superb musicianship," he says, "Thank You for the Music has outlasted ABBA in their prime.

"Dancing Queen represents the pinnacle of the group's career, and we have produced a brandnew show rocking the sound of "the right music"

The set list, drawn from ABBA's nine number one hit singles, nine chart-topping albums and 19 top 20 singles in the UK, includes solid-gold hits like Super Trouper; Waterloo; Mamma Mia; Thank You for the Music; Gimme, Gimme, Gimme; Knowing Me Knowing You; Mamma Mia and, of course, Dancing Queen.

SYMONDS & SAMPSON GARDEN PARTY

THE Symonds & Sampson Beaminster Office held a Garden Party in Peter and Maggie Brook's beautiful summer garden to celebrate ten years in the town, and to raise money for the Dorset & Somerset Air Ambulance. "The party was wonderful with some delicious food and drink, lovely company and even the weather held out for us! commented residential partner, Jeremy Smith. Mark Lewis Head of Residential thanked Peter and Maggie for allowing the party to be held in their beautiful garden and commented on how Symonds & Sampson had been able to build on their successful business and that Jeremy and his team had continued to grow the business making Beaminster office one of the most successful agency offices in the firm. A small raffle was held which included a £40 voucher for The Anchor at Seaton, a Cream Tea for two at The Bridge House Hotel at Beaminster, a kayaking session at West Bay Kayaking Club and a £20 voucher for Cilla & Camilla of Beaminster. "We would like to thank all the local firms that donated a prize and even I did my best by donating a freshly caught trout!' added Jeremy. In total, the event raised over £200 for the Air Ambulance, Symonds & Sampson's chosen charity for 2016, and the afternoon was the perfect way to celebrate ten successful years.

All-new Renault Mégane receives best-in-class running cost figures received best-in-class Service. Maintenance and Repair (SMR) figures at launch according to data provided by independent valuation experts, cap hpi. The fourth generation of Renault's popular family car also sees the largest ever RV uplift awarded by CAP to a C-segment vehicle and substantial reductions in Total Cost of Ownership (TCO) costs.

Whether in diesel or petrol, the All-New Mégane has been judged by cap hpi to have the lowest servicing, tyres, brakes and other maintenance costs compared to its main rivals. The Mégane Dynamique Nav dCi 110 – the predicted best-seller – has an SMR cost of £1,291 over 36 months / 60,000 miles according to the cap hpi Derwent SMR Cost Analysis May 2016. This is an eight per cent improvement over the previous generation Mégane and 3.4 per cent better than its nearest competitor. In Dynamique Nav TCe 130 guise, the All-New Mégane has a best-in-class SMR cost of £1,354.

The All-New Renault Mégane also benefits from a dramatic improvement in terms of Total Cost of Ownership (TCO) compared to places, rising five places in its competitive category, from seventh to second in class. A significant reduction of £1,975 (10.5 per cent) over 36 months / 60,000 miles has resulted in a TCO figure of £18,755 for the dCi 110 Dynamique Nav version. The Dynamique Nav TCe 130 also sees a substantial reduction in its TCO figure with a £2,404 reduction (11.6 per cent) to £20,656 over 36 months / 60,000 miles. TCO takes into account depreciation, fuel and SMR costs.

The All-New Mégane, in the most popular Dynamique Nav dCi 110 trim, sees a Residual Value uplift of eight percentage points over the outgoing generation - the largest RV uplift ever awarded by cap hpi to a replacement model in the family car segment. Mark Dickens, Head of Fleet

Sales Operations & Vehicle Remarketing, Renault UK, commented: "The All-New Mégane is clearly a compelling business proposition both corporate and user chooser customers. Following on from All-New Kadjar, it's the next exciting chapter in our C-segment rejuvenation, backed up by our professional Pro+ dealer network Business Quality Commitment".

Jeff Knight, Forecasting Editor, cap hpi, commented: "Renault with the All-New Mégane have not only created a convincing fleet offering in terms of Total Cost of Ownership, they have underpinned this with a striking design and equipment levels that will surely attract the future used buyer".

The fourth generation Mégane is available in 25 different versions across six trim levels, including the All-New Mégane GT, featuring 4Control all-wheel steering unique in the C-segment. Bringing innovations from the executive car for the first time, All-New Mégane is also available with a unique-inclass 8.7-inch portrait touchscreen as well as Multi-Sense technology which allows drivers to personalise their driving experience by modifying the accelerator pedal and engine response, engine sound, steering weight, interior lighting ambience, and, where fitted, the shift speed of the Efficient Dual Clutch (EDC) transmission.

The All-New Renault Mégane is priced from £16,600 OTR and is on sale now. Details on the full Renault car and van range are available at www.renault.co.uk

New Volkswagen Passat GTE delivers the best of all worlds

SPACE, pace, and environmental credentials that even before its official UK showroom debut have already secured it a prestigious 'green' award: the new Volkswagen Passat GTE is calculated to offer drivers the very best of all worlds.

A winner in the Large Family Car class in the recent Next Green Car Awards even before its showroom debut here, the new Passat GTE is available to order tomorrow through the Volkswagen UK retailer network with prices starting at £36,525 (RRP OTR), excluding Government Plug-In Car Grant of £2,500.

The first Passat with a state-of-the-art plug-in hybrid drive system, the innovative new car offers spirited performance alongside the possibility of zero emissions when driving in all-electric mode.

Available in saloon or estate body styles, the most environmentally responsible Passat to date emits just 39g of CO2 on the EU Combined Cycle, equating to fuel economy of 166 mpg. Yet with 400 Nm of torque and combined system power of 218 PS, the new car can sprint from rest to 62 mph in a lively 7.6 seconds before heading to a top speed of 140 mph, where legal. The potential range between refuelling stops is more

The Passat GTE is a plug-in hybrid that can be driven up to 31 miles on electric power alone in E-Mode. A 1.4-litre TSI turbocharged petrol engine delivers 156 PS, while the electric motor adds a further 115 PS. Underlining its engaging performance capabilities, the electric motor alone can provide up to 330 Nm of torque from near-standstill

A specially developed six-speed DSG gearbox is standard on the Passat GTE and features a third, disengagement clutch. This decouples the TSI motor whenever possible, to allow the vehicle to make best use of kinetic energy and hence increases efficiency still further.

Building on the already elegant lines of the new Passat – voted European Car of the Year 2015 - the Passat GTE is distinguished outside by distinctive C-shaped LED daytime running lights and an additional blue line across the radiator grille: design cues which are shared with the award-winning Golf GTE. A redesigned front bumper and 18-inch alloy wheels also mark out the new car.

Inside, in addition to the optional innovative Active Info Display with specific customised read-outs, standard features include blue ambient lighting, a leathertrimmed multifunction steering wheel with blue decorative stitching, GTE-specific gear knob with blue stitching and seats covered in Alcantara with Vienna leather side bolsters. Unique GTE badging also marks out the new Passat.

Bristling with innovative and engaging new technology, the new Passat GTE boasts Volkswagen's new Car-Net e-Remote app which allows a wide variety of tasks - including charging - to be controlled via smartphone. All climate control functions can be also activated remotely, while information on the vehicle's state of charge, recent driving data or last parking position can be displayed. It is also possible to check whether the doors are closed and the lights turned off.

The Passat GTE's electric motor develops maximum torque of 330 Nm and offers continuous torque of 170 Nm. The 1.4-litre direct-injection turbocharged petrol engine is as sophisticated as the electric motor and drivetrain. This four-valve per cylinder unit from the EA211 engine family uses an ultra-rigid die-cast aluminium crankcase. Maximum power of 156 PS comes at 5,000 rpm, and maximum torque of 250 Nm is on offer between 1,500 rpm and 3,500 rpm.

Under normal circumstances, the Passat GTE starts in pure electric E-Mode. When it reaches minimum battery charge hybrid mode is activated. Here the Passat GTE operates as a full hybrid, charging the battery under deceleration and automatically using the TSI motor and/or electric motor as required. However, should the driver wish to conserve electric power (for example to use E-Mode in a city at the end of a journey), Battery Charge mode can be selected. For maximum power, GTE mode can be chosen: this uses both petrol and electric motors.

The car's lithium-ion battery is fitted in the floor area of the rear seat bench. Comprising eight modules of 12 cells each, it creates a nominal voltage of 360 V and power of 9.9 kWh, with a peak output of 85 kW. The highvoltage battery is overseen electronically by the Battery Management Controller, which manages various functions including the battery's liquid cooling system.

Charging is achieved either via a standard UK domestic mains outlet in around four hours and 15 minutes; or in two hours 30 minutes from a dedicated wallbox with a 3.6 kW supply.

The Passat GTE comes in two highly specified trim levels in the UK. On top of the standard features of the Passat GT (such as Adaptive Cruise Control with Front Assist and City Emergency Braking, Discover Navigation, Bluetooth and parking sensors), standard items include LED headlights and tail lights, Mode 2&3 charging cables and Car-Net e-Remote. Standard items on the GTE Advance trim also include the new Active Info Display, Discover Pro navigation (eight-inch screen), Nappa leather, Area View and LED premium headlights.

Despite its extra technology and revised styling, dimensions of the Passat GTE match those of the standard Passat, including boot volume (402-968 litres for the saloon and 483-1613 litres for the estate).

Judges in the Next Green Car Awards said of the Volkswagen: "Volkswagen's Passat is an excellent large family car that performs well in every area. Add to it the plug-in hybrid powertrain that effortlessly provides drive for all situations and the Passat GTE becomes a dominant model in the large

The new Volkswagen Passat GTE, in saloon or estate form, is available to order on 2 August, with first registrations due in August. For more details visit: www.volkswagen.co.uk

Positive exposure - all-new open-top Audi R8 Spyder now available in the UK

FROM today devotees of the gloriously vocal ten-cylinder engine at the heart of the all-new Audi R8 will be able to revel in the roar even more completely by opting for the latest open-air R8 Spyder. Priced from £129,990 OTR, the new addition to the second generation R8 range can convert to sun-seeking mode in just 20 seconds, leaving occupants to enjoy the elements to the increasingly rare tune of a naturally aspirated V10 soundtrack. The basic format may be familiar, but the ground-up rework of the R8 Spyder brings it very much up to date not only by adding more power and a 50 per cent uplift in torsional rigidity, but also sophisticated new features including the fully digital Audi Virtual Cockpit, the Audi smartphone interface and internetbased Audi Connect services.

All-new open-top Audi R8 Spyder

The key point of differentiation between Coupe and Spyder R8 models is of course the lightweight, fully automated cloth hood, which can be activated at speeds of up to 31mph and is slickly concealed beneath the sculpted integral cover, or reattached to shield occupants from a sharp shower, in just 20 seconds. The rear window, sunk into the bulkhead, can also be retracted and extended at the touch of a button. The strong backbone of the new R8

Spyder is the newly developed multimaterial Audi Space Frame (ASF) which incorporates an intelligent mix of aluminium and carbon fibre that helps to keep dry weight down to just 1.612kg. The inherent strength of the concept is evident in the fact that torsional rigidity has increased by over 50 per cent compared with the previous model, helped by Spyderspecific body reinforcements primarily in the sills, A-pillars and windscreen frame.

3.6 seconds, 197mph

To propel this light yet impressively rigid shell as effectively and efficiently as possible, the latest naturally aspirated V10 works with a fast-acting seven-speed S tronic transmission and a newly designed quattro drive system using an electro-hydraulically activated multi-plate clutch apportioning drive fully variably to either axle according to the situation. The upgraded power plant adds advanced features such as dual injection to optimise response and a freewheeling mode which enables it to 'decouple' whenever possible to improve fuel economy. 540PS of power and 540 Nm (398.3 lb-ft) of torque at 6,500 rpm deliver phenomenal road performance, with the 0 to 62mph sprint taking just 3.6 seconds on the way to a top speed of 197mph, but the latest R8 Spyder is also capable of returning up to 24.1mpg, corresponding to 277 grams CO2 per kilometre.

The Audi drive select adaptive dynamics system is standard, and offers four modes ranging from overtly dynamic to comfort-oriented. Even greater fine-tuning is available via the optional R8 performance leather steering wheel with its multifunction and satellite controls, one of which provides access to three more driving programs: dry, wet and snow. These match the car's operating characteristics to the specific conditions of the road being travelled. Another new highlight in the driver's field of vision is the large 12.3inch, fully digital Audi virtual cockpit, which presents all information using rich 3D graphics.

The internet-based services delivered by Audi connect come as standard in the R8 Spyder, as does the intuitively operated MMI navigation plus with MMI touch, the Audi Music Interface and belt microphones which make it even easier to use natural-language voice control and the phone.

The Audi smartphone interface which made its debut in the O7 and A4 model lines and has just become a standard feature of the A3, is also adopted by the second generation R8 Spyder. It enables selected content from compatible iOS and Android smartphones to be displayed by the Audi virtual cockpit. The Audi phone box can also be specified to connect mobile phones to the car aerial and charge them inductively and for audiophiles the optional Bang & Olufsen Sound System now also plays through two loudspeakers mounted in each seat's headrest, for outstanding sound quality even when driving with the hood down.

Virtually unlimited scope for personalisation

Over and above the extensive standard equipment, customers have almost unlimited scope to tailor both the interior and exterior to their individual preferences with features such as Gloss carbon exterior detailing, LED headlights with laser technology and a wealth of Audi exclusive upholstery and trim upgrades.

Drivers keen to wring every last ounce of reward from their R8 can also opt for the Sport Plus Pack, which adds even more responsive, variable ratio dynamic steering, Audi magnetic ride adaptive damping and an even more aurally impactful sport exhaust identifiable by black exhaust tailpipes which replace the standard chrome examples.

Pre-season football round-up

WITH STUART BROOME

Jermyn searching for reinforcements

DORCHESTER Town completed their pre-season with a 2-0 defeat at home to POOLE TOWN who were promoted to the National League South last season, scor-

The Dolphins who had the better of the first period went ahead after 33 minutes when Luke Burbidge's free kick was powerfully headed home by Nico

The Magpies best efforts came from a Liam Sayers looped header and manager Mark Jermyn who after neatly chesting down a corner fired wide from an Dorchester had a good opening 20 minutes to the second halfand substitute keeper did well to turn Davis Jerrard's rasping 25-yarder for a corner before Rees foiled Nathan Walker by blocking his close range header a minute later.

Walker then turned saviour at the other end when he cleared brother Michael's looping header off the line. However the Dolphins added a second five minutes from time when Abdulia Baggie neatly back-heeled from close range following a corner. Jermyn said afterwards: "I was happy with the majority of it, but disappointed with the two goals we conceded, they couldn't have been much easier; the first one we should have defended our line better from the cross, and left a hole at the front post for the second.

"It's disappointing because we gave a much better account of ourselves than we did against Wimborne.

"Once again I think Nick Swann played very well remembering he's stepped up a couple of leagues and is one of the youngest players in our squad, whilst David Jerrard was impressive.

"I thought to a man we gave a good account of ourselves in the first half. The second half we started well but faded in the last 20 minutes.

"The quality of the substitutes they brought on had a big impact on our game immediately as our energy levels dropped, whilst our substitutes who came on for the last 20 minutes or so, took a few minutes to even get the ball, and we can't have that this season; substitutes need to know their jobs immediately."

Looking forward to the start of the season this weekend Jermyn confirmed that he will be looking to get a couple of players in on loan before Saturday's home clash with KETTERING TOWN if possible.

Despite Sayers having now signed a contract, the county town boss said: "We will be monitoring Chris Dillon this week, but we need to get him fit as soon as possible.

"We also need to speak to a couple of clubs to see what players we can get in because we are desperately thin numbers wise; we have a couple of names in mind.

"It's no reflection on the players we have, but it's unrealistic to rely on the younger players in the squad to be consistent throughout the whole season; they have to make mistakes in order to learn from them."

A reduced budget, caused in part by the loss of revenue following the termination of the park-and-ride scheme from The Avenue, has meant the Magpies manager has struggled to attract some of his summer

However he has been especially pleased to have signed Ben Wood and Mario Mateus, whilst also delighted to have secured most of last season's squad who have shown great team spirit and loyalty to the

Jermyn who has shown good form in the pre-season games and is happy with his fitness, was not too worried about the side's lack of goals in pre-season, citing the fact that new signings Wood and Mateus had not played much, and that the opposition were fairly

Supporters Club boosted by youngsters

LAST year's appeal for younger blood at Dorchester Town Football Supporters Club's AGM was successful with Lee Rhodes and Andy Duke joining their ranks, a point not lost on secretary Harold Gill, who told this year's attendance that their knowledge of procedure generally had brought a breath of fresh air to the club.

He added that launch of the Supporters Club facebook page, courtesy of Lee, with contributions from Andy had taken them into new territory, whilst the addition of a successful quiz night was another success.

Despite their valuable acquisitions, Mr Gill stressed the need for more recruits, and told those present: "We are still short of the ideal number of committee members, so now is your chance to help us help you football

Mr Gill reported that a sum of just under £2,800 had been donated the football club with the match day and Christmas draws both good sources of income, whilst participation at the Dorset County Show and the

As a result he reported that the DTSC this year had an operating surplus of £1012.77 compared to a deficit of £94.11 last year. Membership also remained steady.

In wishing the club well for the coming season he thanked all the club members for their support, but particularly chairman/treasurer Terry Spracklen, Les Phillips who had come out of retirement to help, and

Gills long service recognised

DORCHESTER Town Football Supporters Club committee members Harold and Janet Gill have been recognised for their outstanding contribution to the club with an award by the Dorset County FA.

The couple met through football and have shared their passion for the game over many years.

Harold has been a keen supporter of the Magpies for over 58 years and a member of the committee for 46 years, whilst Janet has also been involved with the club supporting Harold during his years on the committee. Living in Yeovil, they travel to Dorchester for home matches and are very much part of the fixtures and fittings at The Avenue, having never missed a home

Harold sells the raffle tickets and can be found doing a stint in the announcer's box during the game, whilst Janet works in the office selling match day tickets. They are both often seen in and about Dorchester fundraising for the club selling tombola tickets.

In presenting the award for their outstanding contribution to Dorchester Town FC, the DCFA said: "Janet and Harold really epitomize everything that's good about football in the community and are real assets.

They both share the drive and passion to support the game and are fantastic ambassadors for Dorchester

Their highly deserved award was presented by Andy Mercer, Chairman of the DCFA Council.

Charminster Golf

Brinsley edges first after three-way tie

THREE players achieved nett 64 rounds in the first Medal competition at Charminster Golf Club during July.

After countback, Nigel Brinsley was placed first from 79/15. Mark Boggust was second from 74/10 and Leon Newey was third from 85/21. The latter found his handicap reduced by one shot. Rob Rolls had the lowest gross score in his 71/4/67 return.

The Wednesday Medal followed and Nigel Brinsley again showed his form. His first place score of 79/15/64 in Division One matched that of the above competition.

Brian Frampton was second with 84/19/65, the first two receiving one shot handicap reductions. In third place after countback was Roger Kellaway with 80/15/65. Peter Churchill shared the lowest gross score with Nigel Brinsley.

The Division Two Medal was won by Bob Irwin with an outstanding round of 80/20/60. This was the lowest gross score. Tony Lee with 83/20/63 achieved second place. Unsurprisingly the first pair received subsequent two shot handicap reductions. Charlie Dunn was third with 92/27/65.

The midweek Stableford for Division One was won by Bev Brewer with 39 points from his 18 handicap. Peter Churchill was second with 38/13 and Terry Drudge third with 36/18.

The Division Two Stableford winner was new member Jonathan Harwood with 42/27. The 27 handicap subsequently was reduced by one shot. Leon Newey was second with 41/20 and John Maddocks was third with 39/21.

Club Captain Graham Swingewood presented his Captain's Day. The weather was glorious for the event with the main competition using the Stableford format.

Brian Drammis was the competition winner, amassing 43 points from his 12 handicap. John Maddocks was second with 42/21 and Lopez Shackleford was third with 41/15, ahead on countback from Jonathan Harwood with 41/26.

A three club plus putter non-qualifying event was held for the President's Putter. The winner with a nett 62 was Jonathan Harwood.

The Three Counties team played two matches in July. At STURMINSTER MARSHALL, the result was a hefty 4-1 loss. But things were turned around home against WHEATHILL B with a convincing $4\frac{1}{2} - \frac{1}{2}$ win.

The seniors team had four matches. At home versus KINGWESTON, the result was a 21/2-31/2 loss followed by a 3-25 win over visiting PARLEY COURT.

Away at FOLKE, the team was beaten 4-2 and at WINCANTON the match was halved 3-

PREMIER LEAGUE

WIMBORNE & COLEHILL (20) 175-5 BEAT DORCHESTER (5) 173 ALL OUT BY 5 WICKETS FOR the third week running Dorchester failed to make an impression on the sides above as they looked to get back amongst the front runners, this time beaten by five wickets by league leaders Wimborne & Colehill.

With Broadstone's victory over Martinstown, the now drop to fifth and are 54 points behind the leaders with just four games to play.

Having been bowled out for 174, they still looked to be in with a chance as the hosts slumped to 89-5, but an unbroken partnership between James Williams (25no) and Frank Turrell (54no) saw the leaders home with over five overs to

Apart from Dan Belt (29), none of the top order managed to get started, and it was left to Sean Fitzgerald (20), Ben Macklin (18) and James Dunhan with a tops core of 40 to bolster the total.

The hosts made a steady start but the introduction of captain Simon Mitchem (3-25) and Pete Horne (2-22) gave Dorchester hope, but they couldn't break the sixth wicket pairing.

Mitchem on reflection said: "It was frustrating our batting didn't come up to scratch; not many were out to good balls. We bowled and fielded quite well. which was good, but just couldn't get that vital breakthrough."

Broadstone (20) 314-1 BEAT MARTIN-STOWN (2) 142 ALL OUT BY 172 RUNS

MARTINSTOWN captain Ed Nichols was left wondering if things would have turned out differently had Broadstone's Daniel Cook been dismissed during the first ten balls that he received.

Dropped twice to fairly easy chances, he survived what Nichols thought was a good shout for a stumping before going on to thump a splendid unbeaten 134 not out along with Pete Russell who carried his bat for 132 not out as they shared an unbroken partnership of 262.

On an uneven surface at The Delph the hosts soon got into their stride with Jordan Le Boutiller (12) helping Russell add 52 for the first wicket before he gloved a rising ball from Chris Read (1-37) to Ben Lawes in the slips.

A second wicket then could have changed the complexion of the game, but the two missed catches and debate able stumping decision meant Martinstown were set an almost impossible task of chasing 315 for victory.

Nichols said: "We didn't bowl too badly, but a fast outfield with short boundaries made life difficult. After 25 30 overs we had to assess damage limitations, although given a good run it was a target we could have a go at."

Nichols (27) and Lawes showed that as they had 90 on the board in 14 overs. but the introduction of spin soon changed that.

Nichols was caught off a top edge on 92, and soon after bring the three figures up, Lawes bottom edged a low ball through to the wicketkeeper for 61.

There appeared little resistance after this with only Chris Clarke (16) getting into double figures as Martinstown ca pitulated to 142 all out.

County Division 1 SHROTON (20) 261-7 BEAT WEYMOUTH (3) 90 ALL OUT BY 151 RUNS

WEYMOUTH'S recent run of good form was brought to an end when they travelled to Shroton with just ten men, a point not lost on captain Simon Browne, who despite selection prob lems for this game was expecting a full team to travel.

With only four frontline bowlers to call on. Shroton made the most of the opportunity and, with Steve Franklin (74) leading the charge, they racked up 261-7 in their allotted overs, although very occasional bowler Dean Janaway helped restrict that taking three wickets in his nine overs.

In reply only Mike Hardy (16), playing his first game for the club this season, figures as Weymouth were dismissed for just 90 all out.

An extremely disappointed Browne said: "For Weymouth Cricket Club to only field aside with 10 players is not great. However I am grateful for those that were there who stuck to the task despite the difficulties.

County Division 2

Branksome (4) 149 ALL OUT LOST TO CATTISTOCK (20) 256-5 BY 107 RUNS JON Legg smashed a superb 134 as Cattistock continued their great run of Branksome had sworn revenge for their narrow defeat in the reverse fixture, but were left licking their wounds as they were comprehensively beaten.

It didn't start well for Cattistock with Billy Walbridge being bowled in the third over with three on the board, but Legg was joined by Sam Baker (37) and they added 113 for the second wicket. before Steve Tucker (24) helped add 65 for the third wicket.

Legg cruised along as he was joined by Liam Toohill (17), before being dismissed with the score on 181-3. Some lusty blows from Brad Damen (25*) saw the visitors close on 256-5

Damen (2-22) then put Cattistock in the driving seat when he helped turn Branksome's reply from 24-0 to 29-3.

Although James Purnell (55) helped stop the rot, he couldn't find any lasting partners as Callum Mullins (3-15), Baker (2-19) and Toohill (2-26) carved through the home line-up to earn their side a victory by 107 runs.

PORTLAND RT (12) 282 ALL OUT LOST TO MARNHULL (20) 313-8 BY 31 RUNS

MATT Randall played a captain's innings excelling with bat and ball, but still ended up on the losing side.

Batting first the visitors got off to a good start with James Vitali leading the assault. He featured in a third wicket stand of 109 with James Broughton, before punishing the home attack with a further partnership of 80 with Zack

He was finally dismissed by Randall (4-36) for 140 of which 108 were boundaries, as the visitors posted a mammoth 313-8 with Matt Barrett also claiming 2-

Triangle in reply lost early wickets but Randall found an ally in Simon Barrett (37) and they put on 173 for the fifth wicket. However they could not match the rate and with Randall's dismissal for 132 (19x4, 3x6) so went the hosts chances and they fell 31 runs short of

County Division 3 BEAMINSTER (6) 109 LOST TO KINGSTON LACY (19) 182 BY 73 RUNS

BEAMINSTER'S batting woes resurfaced as they were dismissed for a paltry109 in pursuit of their 183 run target at home against Kingston Lacy.

With several key experienced players absent Beaminster fielded a youthful side including 5 under 15 year olds.

Beaminster won the toss and inserted their hosts. Nick Hollely (2-32) bowled a tidy spell while stalwart Simon Jones excelled taking 4-30 and Ali Campbell (2-42), reducing the visitors to 62-4. However they rallied through a fifth wicket partnership of 79 between James Stewart (24) and Bob Dykes (59).

Late on there was a wicket for youngster Fergus Rees (1-34) whilst 13-year-old Will Moss (0-32) although unsuccessful, showed promise, and Will Murley took two excellent catches before Kingston Lacy were bowled out for 182 in the 37th over.

In reply, Beaminster struggled losing both openers for just 22 runs, and were 45-5, but Jones showed his experience with a dogged 41 to hold the innings together, and with support from Justin Gurd (10) and Hollely (15) they scrambled a batting point.

Stand-in captain Justin Gurd said: "Many of the side were playing in Division Five last season, so this was a big step up for them. We fielded really well. restrict them to 182 was good on a wicket where 220 is the par.

DORCHESTER 2ND (17) 218-5 BEAT SHER-BORNE 2ND (7) 217-5 BY 5 WICKETS

A SUPERB unbeaten century by Mal-colm Stroudley saw Dorchester comfortably beat Sherborne 2nds.

Having been asked to bat, Sherborne got off to an excellent start with both openers scoring half centurie.

But having put on over 100 for the first wicket, the introduction of Nick Joslin (2-41) into the bowling attack broke the partnership. He first removed Adam Smith for 53 and then shortly afterward bowled David Barnstaple for 51. Sherborne then put together a partnership of 50 in the last 10 overs to take their score up to 217 with Rob Parfitt unbeaten on 53. Habib Wardak (2-30) and Matt Porter (1-15) were the other wicket takers

Dorchester got off to a great start in reply with Stroudley and Olly Osborne impressive.

They put on 85 for the first wicket in 18 overs before Osborne (28) was the first out, but Porter then joined Stroudley at the crease and both batsmen scored freely putting on 75 in 13 overs before Porter (33) was dismissed.

Dorchester then lost two quick wick ets which brought Simon Joslin to the wicket, and he and Stroudley scored the 45 required for victory in just six overs with Joslin 24* and Stroudley carrying his bat for a magnificent 116* in a chanceless innings, with just over four overs to spare.

County Division 4 CHARLTON DOWN (20) 97-1 BEAT ABBOTSBURY (1) 96 BY 9 WICKETS

A DEVASTATING spell of bowling from 16-year-old Dan Stevens saw Charlton Down take a massive leap towards promotion to Division Three with an emphatic nine wicket victory over local rivals Abbotsbury.
After winning the toss Abbotsbury looked comfortable on 27-0 after nine overs until the impressive Dan Stevens struck three times in ten balls. First he took a simple return catch to remove captain Aaron Oliver (13) and then snapped up the hard hitting Simon Allen (7) and finally Nick Kneebone nibbled at a beautiful away swinger to be caught at slip by Roger Frapwell

With Stuart Gill being caught off Marc Spurway (3-44), Abbotsbury had slumped to 32-4.

Chas Duerdoth and Chris Backhouse tried to rebuild the Abbotsbury innings but a change of bowling saw Javed Gill (1-13) bowl the dangerous Duerdoth (5) and then Spurway struck twice bowling the experienced Backhouse (22) and hind by wicketkeeper Rob Deadman to leave the Swans 78-7.

The returning Matt Stevens (1-12) and Dan Stevens (4-20) both picked up further wickets before Jae Miller bowled Grafton Straker to finish the Abbotsbury innings on 96.

Dan Stevens bowled a match-winning spell with such control and Abbotsbury beautifully delivered away swing, whilst unsung hero Deadman produced another excellent display behind the stumps.

Charlton Down batsmen made quick work of chasing down the target of 97 losing only Jae Miller (10) to Chas Duer-

It was left to teenagers Jack Eveleigh (24no) and Nick Voss (54no) to punish anything wide or over pitched to find the boundary together with excellent running between the wickets Eveleigh played with sound defence but latched onto any ball slightly wide or over pitched. Voss reached his 50 off 51 balls with a drive to the mid off boundary followed by a copy cat shot to the mid on boundary to guide Charlton Down to their "bakers dozen" of victory and still remain unbeaten.

Charlton Down now require 13 points for promotion into Division Three and a further 34 points to go up as champions from their remaining four matches

PUDDLETOWN (8) 203 LOST TO STURMIN-STER & HINTON (20) 204-7 BY 3 WICKETS PUDDLETOWN'S recent winning run came to an end on Saturday, when they lost by three wickets to their visitors Sturminster & Hinton, who completed the double over the home side this sea-

Puddletown won the toss and elected to bat, and the opening pair of Lucas Allen and Chris Clarke got their side off to a fine start with a good opening stand, but after Allen was out, wickets fell at regular intervals.

Good knocks by Chris Ascott and David Morris enabled the home side to reach a total of 203 with eight balls remaining to be bowled. Allen was the top scorer for Puddletown with 59. . Sturminster made a solid start to their innings, with both openers contributing, and after both fell, that man Rose scored a fine 54 to keep his side in contention.

Wickets began to tumble until A. Cornell came to the wicket, and made a fine 42 not out to see his side over the line supported by Horne and Walters. Both Allen and Alex Fairman took two wickets, but Puddletown were unable to make further in-roads into Sturminster's batting line up.

County Division Five MARTINSTOWN 2ND (8) 204 LOST TO CHALKE VALLEY (20) 205-6 BY 4 WICKETS CAPTAIN Matt Rimmer believes if his side could have held the catches against unbeaten league leaders Chalke Valley presented to them, the result could have been different. Rimmer and 14-year-old Sean

Williams gave the hosts a good start with a stand of 59 before the skipper was dismissed for 36 (7x4). Jack Kane went for a duck on the same score and when the youngster was dismissed for a confident looking 22 followed by Colin Crosthwaite (1) it looked as if the good start had been wasted at 87-4

However Tom Bracev (48) and Tom

Unfortunately when Chalke Valley batted, every batsman scored runs ranging from 14 to 45, and with Martinstown dropping a number of catching opportunities they reached their target with nine overs remaining.

Rimmer lamented: "Overall I was pleased to pick up points against the league leaders, but had we took our chances, would have been a lot closer!'

County Division Six POOLE TOWN 4TH (6) 175 LOST TO PORTLAND RT 2ND (20) 226-3 BY 51 RUNS

THIS victory saw Portland RT 2nds move to the top of the league, although they have played two more games than

Batting first, Triangle's openers Ryan Price (44) and Oliver Whisker put on a century partnership before Price deoarted, but Whisker continued to show his prowess carried his bat for a valuable unbeaten century after enjoying another big stand with Dave Adkins (49no) as the posted a score of 226-3. Skipper Rich Samuels was in devastate ing form when Poole replied. He plundered 5-18 from his eight overs and with fellow opening bowler Jodie Locke producing a very economical spell that deserved more than his one wicket, the visitors were rocking at 25-5.

They were steadied by one player who scored 84 but with no one to really help him, the Poole reply finished well

Batting first they racked up 215-9 with Ali Crawford (65) and Ross Baker (50) leading the run chase after being 10-2

Pete Bustin (3-20) led the wicket takers when the visitors batted with Rob Meech (2-16) and Ade Phillips (2-31) also helping to dismiss Compton House for 150 all out.

SYMENE (7) 166 ALL OUT LOST TO NORTH PERROTT (20) 257-7 BY 91 RUNS

SYMENE found the league leaders too strong for them and were soundly beaten, despite another fine innings from Liam Toohill with good support from James Dolman.

North Perrott got off to a good start but with Luke Robertson (1-38) and Toohill (1-27) dismissing their openers with 70 on the board, things looked

Bridport OutdoorBRIDPORT Ladies beat West Moors 58-55 and gain six points in an absorbing DWL Division One game that saw the overall result hinge on the last end of all three rinks. Bridport FC - pre-season news

Bees' late sting downs Blues

Bridport 3 Ilminster Town 1

BRIDPORT finally unlocked a stubborn Ilminster team with two goals in the last quarter of tlast Tuesday's pre-season friendly writes Stuart Broom.

It was the Bees final game before the start of their season on August 6th when they play Alresford Town in the FA Cup, whilst for Ilminster it was their first competitive pre-season workout.

After their toughest pre-season examination so far at Plymouth Parkway on Saturday, manager Adam Fricker might have been expecting his side to overcome the Blues who play in the Premier Division of the Somerset County League, but it wasn't until the visitors ran out of steam in the second half that they managed to get ahead.

Both sides played good, open football in the first half, and Blues new manager Jason Manley would have been impressed with his team's work rate.

Bridport posed the most threat in front of goal. With Matt Condliffe and Andy Martin working hard overlapping down the flanks there were plenty of balls played into the box with Braeden Symes not afraid to shoot on sight, although not really testing keeper

At the other end, big Joe Simmonds kept the Bees defence alert and created a couple of half chance.

The best chance of the first half came from Matty Brown's near post flick from a corner which Dan Peach turned for another corner Ilminster caught the Bridport defence cold within 20 seconds of the restart and when the ball was scrambled away it fell to Brad Miles who hit a 20yard shot with the outside of his left foot that screamed in off the post to give the visitors the lead.

Bridport moved up a gear as they fought back but it wasn't until midway through the half when Martin's low corner caused confusion on the goal line and the ball went in off a defender.

Mark Salter almost immediately put Bridport ahead but he couldn't quite direct Condliffe's cross into goal, but with Ilminster now struggling to stay in the game as Bridport's superior fitness began to tell, they fell behind on 77 minutes.

Parsons brought down Condliffe on the angle of the penalty box and when keeper May failed to hold Martin's low curling free kick, Leigh Bailey was on hand to bundle the ball over the line.

Salter then showed his prowess when with eight minutes remianing he beat May to a through ball, dinked it over his head and half volleyed into an

This completed Bridport's pre-season programme. The team now look forward to the first competitive game of the season, an FA Cup Extra Preliminary Round home game against Alresford Town next Saturday (August 6th 3pm ko).

There will be an extra bonus for the crowd with a performance by Port Bredy Allstars Majorettes who will be making their final performance before they take part in Jersey's historic Battle of Flowers the following weekend.

For the Bridport-based troupe, they will be showing their skills both before the game as well as at halftime, so turn up early and watch them strut their stuff.

Annetts excited by new season

BRIDPORT Reserves' manager Shaun Annetts is excited by the club's prospects for the coming season, although he was disappointed by the decision of a number of players to leave St Mary's in the summer.

He said: "It's fair to say I have been disappointed by the decision of some of the players to choose to

"With a fresh manager with new ideas, I'm surprised those who perhaps didn't feel they had a fair crack of the whip last season, as well as established first team players, decided to move to other clubs Many of them were talented and had a great chance to improve their skills and play at a higher standard."

So far the reserves have played three pre-season games, winning them all. Having beaten visitors Portland Reserves 2-1, they then travelled to Somerset where they beat Street Reserves 1-0. Their third match against Combe St Nicholas last Thursday resulted in a 4-1 home victory. Their final game was at Seaton Town last night (Tuesday).

Training which has involved players from both the reserves and third team squads has been well at-

"The attitude from everyone has been exceptional during both the training and the games and we couldn't have asked for more," added Annetts, who with assistant Simon Gale is working with the third team management pair of Mark Scadding and Richard

The former Beaminster manager was full of praise for two of the more senior players who have committed themselves to the club rather than leave.

"Harry Fleet, who produced some exceptional performances last season which suggested he was destined for higher things, has agreed to stay and despite turning his ankle in week two, has been really supportive in helping the young players, whilst Gary Bulman despite overtures from other clubs has also decided to stay.

"We have a wonderful mix of lads at this level, and I can see a few of them soon establishing themselves

Annetts believes the club will begin a new era that augurs well for the future under the leadership of new manager Adam Fricker.

Blake waiting on IOC decision

BRITAIN'S double gold medal hope Paul Blake will have to wait until Friday (5th) to see whether he will face his two biggest rivals in next month's Paralympic Games.

Blake, the IPC World champion and double London 2012 T36 400m/800m medallist, has been foiled in his quest to become double Olympic champion by Evgenii Shvetcov, but he and Blake's other arch rival Artem Areftev could be banned from taking part in Rio next month following the IOC's decision to vet all Russian track and field athletes following the recent drugs scandal.

Any ban could increase the Charl-ton Down athletes chances of gold, but he hopes they are not involved as he is desperaté to beat Shvetcov on a level playing fields, but feels with the doubts surrounding Russian athletes they should be subject to the additional tests.

The Russian has proved invincible in the T36 100m, 200m and 400m's over the past three years, but Blake feels he is in the form to change that in the 400m.

The 26-year-old had been troubled by plantar fasciitis which affects the heel and bottom of the foot, but this has now been resolved and he has declared himself on target for Rio 2016.

"It's completely gone now which is great and means I can just focus on my training. It pretty well healed itself, which is amazing."

Blake has one more 800m race in Watford on August 10th before joining the rest of the GB Paralympic team for their Rio preparation day at Loughborough the following day. The team then fly to Brazil on August 30th to their £1.6m training base in Belo Horizonte in the southeast of the country.

"I just need this last race and I should be on target where I want to be," he added.
